STARTLING G. A. R. STORY.

Capt. Geo. H. Davenport, the Popular and Well-known G. A. R. Veteran Relates an Experience. A Leader and Power in Grand Army Circles.

CAPT GEO H DAVENPORT

Capt Geo H Davenport of Bernardston Mass is a most popular and widely known man, especially in G A R and Army circles. He is Pension Agent and everybody knows him. He is best known to the whole country through his discovery of "Davenport's Silver Pomade," probably the best article of its kind in the world

Capt Davenport is a most entertaining speaker and his relation of the following incident will be interesting to everybody

"I had been troubled severely for years with heart disease and the effects of malarial poison contracted in the army. I was so nervous and weak that I was unable to do any hard work for years.

I consulted many doctors but have found no good results from them. I finally used Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and can say that it has done great things for me

"I have been helped in the heart trouble more than from any and all other things I ever used. I find that for weakness and nervous excitement it is a great help. For instance on Memorial Day I addressed the G. A. R, at Northfield, and on the following day at Whately, I gave an address before their G A R, without any apparent fatigue which I could not have done before I used Dr Greene's Nervura

"I have often recommended this wonderful cure for disease to my friends, and shall be happy to answer any further inquiries from anyone

The experience of the gallant captain is the experience of everybody. All who use this great cure of disease, this restorer of health and strength, Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy report that it invariably makes them well

The weak, nervous and ailing should try it on the strength of what everybody who has used it says of its wonderful curative powers. It will cure you

Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when here is a physician's prescription, a discovery made by the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr Greene of 34 Temple Place Boston, Mass. If you take this medicine you can consider yourself under Dr Greene's direct professional care, and you can consult him or write to him about your case, freely and without charge. This is a guarantee that this remedy will cure, possessed by no other medicine in the world

Not your eyes, but your feet tell you what a shoe is, and a multitude of feet have told their owners that my shoes cap the climax of excellence. The news is out already that my fall stock is beating the record. It's shoes like mine that make walking popular and the outlay for footwear light. A cheap shoe is one that gives twenty-five per cent. more value in wear than it cost. That's the size of my shoe values this season.

HALF A MILLION LOSS.

Estimated Damage by Recent Cyclone.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark, Oct 5 The injured victims of the cyclone are improving, with the exception of the convict, Tim Mitchell, who is probably fatally injured. No addition to the list of fatalities has been made. In the damaged districts armies of men are at work clearing away the debris, preparatory to rebuilding. The board of trustees of the State charitable institutions, met yesterday afternoon and determined to repair at once the extensive damages upon the insane asylum building

The loss to the State by the asylum damage is now definitely estimated at $75,000. Revised estimates of the aggregate damage sustained in the city indicate losses of $500,000. Street car traffic has been partially resumed. Telegraph wires are being untangled and order is fast being evolved out of chaos

DESPERATE FIGHT

Between Robbers and a Posse of Sheriffs.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind, Oct 5 A bloody fight took place last evening in Green county between a posse of 100 armed men and a trio of bank robbers who robbed the safe of the Bloomfield bank Wednesday night blowing the vault to atoms with a heavy charge of dynamite and wrecking the bank office. The men secured $4,500 in cash and fled to the hill country west of Bloomfield, where they were overtaken by Sheriff Johnson's posse, guided by bloodhounds

A desperate fight was kept up with the robbers retreating. One of the trio was so badly wounded that he fell behind and attempted to hide in the brush. The bloodhounds nosed him out and he was captured. The wounded robber gave his name as Charles Rivers, of Indianapolis, and still had $1,100, his share of the Bloomfield bank plunder. The sheriff with a greater part of the posse, assisted by the bloodhounds, continued the pursuit. The cashier of the bank says $6,000 will hardly cover their loss

RAILROAD MATTERS

Movements to Colonize Fort Wayne Railroad Men

FORT WAYNE, Ind, Oct 5 A number of Fort Wayne trainmen who were "let out" during the A R U strike, being unable to secure positions on any railroad in this vicinity, are now considering a scheme which attracts no little attention. The South American railroads are just now experiencing a boom and experienced men are needed to operate the rolling stock. Fort Wayne men have been in correspondence with the South American railroad officials and a number can secure employment there at once. A meeting has been called and an attempt will be made to colonize a party of Fort Wayne railroad men to go to South America in the near future

THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDACY

Views of Russell B Harrison

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct 5 Thomas Burton, of the Daniels Steel Tie Company, returned from Terre Haute yesterday, where after closing some business matters with Russell B Harrison, he asked him if his father would be a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination. Mr Harrison replied "I do not think he will be an active candidate. It is some time before the convention will be held and there will probably be numerous candidates for the head of the ticket. If a sentiment should develop that he was the choice of the convention, I do not think he would decline the nomination"

FARMINGTON, Oct 5 Harry Day, living about a mile from New Sharon village, took down a loaded gun this morning to return to its owner, when he dropped a shell, stooped to pick it up and the gun discharged, the contents hitting him in the neck, causing death almost instantly. He leaves a wife

FROM PORTLAND

A Trial Justice Held for Assault

PORTLAND, Oct. 5 Trial Justice Arthur Bowers, of West Baldwin, was this morning before Judge Gould, charged with assault on W H Thomes. From the testimony it appeared that several men bear a grudge against Bowers on account of cases decided against them by him as Trial Justice. Two years ago they assaulted him and were imprisoned for it. Since that time they have made his life miserable by many petty annoyances, such as hooting at him on the street. Last Saturday, Thomes, it is claimed, hooted at him, upon which Bowers drew a revolver and fired, though, as he says, not intending to hit Thomes. Judge Gould bound Bowers over to the Grand Jury in $300 and also put him under $300 to keep the peace for a year

JAPAN ANGRY.

Policy Laid Out by European Powers.

Settlement of Trouble to be an International Matter.

The Real Reason for Meeting of Cabinet Ministers.

The Situation as Viewed by Leading Newspapers.

LONDON, Oct 5 The Globe referring to yesterday's ministerial council, ridicules the idea that it was summoned merely for the purpose of sending war ships to protect the lives and property of British residents in China, and expresses the opinion that the Manchester Guardian's article of to-day gives the real reason for the meeting of the ministers. The St James Gazette expresses a similar opinion

An International Matter

MANCHESTER, Eng, Oct 5. The Guardian to day says that English diplomats in Japan cabled to London September 10, the destination of a secret expedition which left Hiroshima last week and also described the policy that the Japanese government would adopt in the event of the collapse of China.

Russia and England, however, have decided that the settlement of the trouble between China and Japan shall be an international and not merely a Japanese affair, and this fact has tended to make Japan angry. Germany and France the Guardian says, concur in the plan to make the settlement an international matter. The policy of the United States government is uncertain. It has been the tendency of the United States for the last twenty years to strike out its own line on eastern questions without regard to other powers

Japan, in her present need, will pay no heed to representations made by the powers unless they shall be accompanied by tangible evidence of the intention to back them up. It was to authorize this, according to the Guardian, that the ministerial council of yesterday was summoned. The paper further says that after a showing of force Japan would be told that England desired that an armistice be established, and on the behalf of Europe would immediately call an international conference.

Comments on the Situation in the East

LONDON, Oct. 5 Commenting upon the eastern situation, the Post says The present position of China cannot be lightly regarded. If the empire were broken up or its position imperilled the outlook would be extremely grave. Hitherto we have been accustomed to regard China as an ally and we have treaties and agreements with her which require close attention

Li Hung Chang is the only man of eminence in China capable of advising the Emperor at this juncture. He deserves any aid that England can afford him in the effort to save his country from the terrible measures with which it is menaced

The Graphic says It is time a halt was called by the European powers interested in keeping the peace. Neither Great Britain or Russia can wish to see China permanently crippled by the Japanese. A state of chaos in the former empire would raise problems that might set the world ablaze.

The Chronicle says It is difficult to understand why an act so purely administrative as that of increasing the squadron in Chinese waters could not have been decided without summoning the cabinet in hot haste from all parts of the United Kingdom and Europe.

The Telegraph in an article written in a similar strain to that of the Chronicle remarks that three of the five ships ordered to China could not possibly arrive there in time to avert a possible massacre of British subjects, nor could a vessel of the type of the first class cruiser St George be needed merely to keep order at treaty ports. The paper hints that possibly a further emergency is being provided for

The Daily News says There is no reason whatever to believe that the alarmist rumors of the last few days were the offspring of any inspiration but that arising from a complete misunderstanding of the actual state of things.

Munitions of War for China

LIVERPOOL, Oct 5. The Shipping Telegraph asserts that a British steamer laden with munitions of war is on her way to China from a continental port. An enormous rate of freightage has been paid upon the cargo, in fact, greatly exceeding the aggregate of the value of the vessel. The venture is insured at three guineas percentage and wagers have been laid that it will prove successful

Japan will Blockade Treaty Ports

LONDON, Oct. 5 The Shanghai correspondent of the Central News says a report is in circulation there that the Japanese intend to establish a blockade of the treaty ports of Chee Foo and Tien Tsin. Chinese merchants at Shanghai are cancelling their freight contracts.

The missionary at Liang Yang has fled to New Chawang. The country is in a very unsettled state and the soldiers are much feared.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Reports Denied

LONDON, Oct. 5 The Times publishes a despatch from its Shanghai correspondent saying a despatch from Tien Tsin denies the report that the Chinese have evacuated Corea, and also denies that the Japanese are near the Yalu river or are occupying Thortonhaven.

It is stated that the Chinese transports are moving with the utmost freedom in the Gulf of Pe Chi Li, and that the war ships at Port Arthur, which were engaged in the Yalu fight will soon be repaired and ready for sea, with the exception of the Lai Yuen, which was almost wholly burned.

Had a Noisy Meeting.

PARIS, Oct. 5. The first general meeting for the formation of the new Panama Canal Co was held last evening. Eight hundred interested persons were present. It was announced that part of the capital of the new company had been deposited as a legal trust fund and a committee of three were appointed to examine the various reports on the scheme. The meeting was a very noisy one. The turbulence was due to a refusal on the part of the chair to permit to be stated how much of the $720,000 said to have been deposited had been subscribed by the public.

Relations Between France and England.

LONDON, Oct. 5. The Times prints a despatch from its Paris correspondent, stating that Mr. Phipps, Secretary of the Embassy and charge d'affairs in the absence of Lord Dufferin, the British ambassador, had an interview with M. Handtaux, the foreign minister, last evening, and the intercourse of the two was very cordial. After leaving M. Hanotaux, Mr. Phipps expressed his conviction that any difficulties which may have arisen between France and England are perfectly susceptible of settlement.

No attempt was made to break a safe, so far as known. The burglars entered by back windows, the dark night favoring them.

The bridesmaids were Misses Marcia Knight and Beth Milliken

Years ago indigo was carried by every wholesale and retail grocer in Portland as well as by apothecaries. Then it was that almost every farmer's wife spun her own yarn and the indigo was used to color it. Now all that is changed and an inquiry among wholesale firms goes to show that the sale is very small and the only demand seems to come from the small stores scattered along the coast

Hancock.

Mrs Andrew McCulch, of Machias, who had worked at the Belmont Hotel all summer, was found dead in her bed Wednesday morning. She retired in her usual health, and heart failure is given as the cause of her death

Sagadahoc

Work has commenced towards the erection of a new iron railroad bridge across the New Meadows river, between West Bath and Harding. The stone abutments will be built out seventy five feet further on each side of the river than the old ones, thus shortening the iron portion of the bridge proper 150 feet

Washington

Eastport Sentinel: I H McFaul, Esq, has been corresponding with C H Nelson, owner of the famous trotting stallion Nelson, with a view to having him give an exhibition mile on the track at McFaul Park this city, on Wednesday, October 17th. Should Mr McFaul be successful in his negotiations, other interesting events to make up a grand race day, will be arranged for by the park management, on the above date. Nelson, so it is reported, has been secured for a principal attraction by the Calais Driving Park Association at their coming race meeting next week

A large whale disporting about Eastport harbor for several days past, has afforded a sight of unusual interest to numerous observers who watch the big fellow's rolling, rollicking movements as he passes to and fro evidently busied about securing a meal of some of the piscatorial forms of life with which the waters of the harbor seem to fairly teem. In his circuits coming very near to the wharves and threading his way with remarkable precision among the numerous boats and shipping, while travelling with a celerity that would distance the fastest steamer.

The caribou or moose that was killed or drowned in the river north of Eastport over a week ago seems to be causing several persons residents of Edmunds, Perry and Robbinston, no end of trouble. Game Warden French hearing of the occurrence proceeded to make an investigation which resulted in his bringing William Trott, a resident of the first named town, who was the one of the party who followed the animal in a boat and lassoed him, so it was stated, before Trial Justice R J McGarrigle, at Pembroke, on Thursday to answer to the charge of hunting moose in close time. Trott was represented by counsel, B. B Murray, of the above place, appearing in his behalf. A number of witnesses were examined and the trial lasted nearly all day, at its close Trott was adjudged guilty of the offense and fined $100 from which an appeal was taken and he was bound over to appear in Machias for trial at the present term of the Supreme Judicial Court. Warden French had issued summons for the appearance of Mr Charles Corthell, of South Robbinston, at court to answer to the charge of having the head of said animal. Mr William Lincoln, of Perry, for skinning the game and Mr. J Gove, of the same town for having the hide of the moose or caribou in his possession. Rumors of there being others summoned who were in any way connected with this now famous case, are rife.

PLEASES BECAUSE IT IS FREE

When a thing is free and at the same time contains a great value, being just what everybody wants, it is eagerly sought by all. Every weak, delicate or sickly person will be pleased with the great and generous offer of Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass, the noted and successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He has established a system of free, letter correspondence, whereby all may write him about their complaint and receive in return a complete description of their ailments, explaining thoroughly the meaning of each sympton, and telling just what to do to be cured. The doctor makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, giving most careful and explicit attention to every letter, and explains your case so minutely you understand exactly what your trouble is. All this costs nothing. All those who cannot afford the time or expense of visiting the city can now have the most skilful consultation and advice free of charge, and without leaving their homes. The method is successful. Thousands are being cured by it. Try it. Write the doctor and it will undoubtedly be the means of your getting well.

NOTHING STRANGE.

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner Pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation. C

Jack Jenks was a victim of liver complaint,
His strength was exhausted, his pulse had grown faint.
He had ulcers and tumors, and all sorts of humors,
And the ills that he suffered would weary a saint.

Folks said that Jack Jenks would never be cured,
But Jack said he would—that they might be assured.
Pierce's G. M. Discovery wrought his recovery,
After all the poor fellow so long had endured.

Such a multitude of serious, distressing, and often fatal maladies spring from a disordered liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery creates a healthy action of this important organ, and the ills which have their origin there, such as bad blood, biliousness, indigestion and dyspepsia, can be cured by its persistent use. DOOMED CITY.

Destructive Fire Raging in Buckhannon City.

Number of Towns Appealed to for Assistance.

Flames Spreading Rapidly and Water Very Scarce.

Loss Will be Great and Many People Homeless.

CLARKSBURG, W Va, Oct 5 The city officials of Buckhannon, the county seat of Upshur county, appealed last night to Weston and this city for aid, stating that the town was being burned up

The fire started on Main street and gained great headway before discovered. Eight large buildings were destroyed up to 12 30 A. M. High winds prevailed and water was scarce. Buckhannon is one of the wealthiest towns in the State. At 2 30 A M, three blocks opposite the court house were destroyed. The county buildings, including the jail, were at the time catching and the flames were spreading rapidly to the residence portion of the town, with every indication that the town was doomed. There was no apparent way to fight the fire. The loss will be great. Hundreds of people are homeless. Shortly after the fire started a man named Neely was shot dead by some one unknown

Whig and Courier.

BY BOUTELLE BROTHERS.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle Brothers, and communications intended for publication should be addressed "Editor of Whig and Courier."

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1894.

A Wet Blanket.

The great slump in the vote of Georgia has created no little anxiety in the ranks of the Democracy. It was fairly expected that Georgia, which is a Democratic stronghold, would roll up a heavy majority to which the party could point as an offset to the vote in Vermont and Maine, and with this end in view national effort was made to arouse the people. Secretary Hoke Smith left his department in the hands of his subordinates and hastened home to aid the cause. Speaker Crisp and other leading lights of the party also took an active part in the campaign, but in spite of this array of talent the Democratic majority of about 75,000 a year ago fell off to 20,000 or 25,000 on the head of the ticket with a still smaller majority for the other candidates. With this shaking up in the solid South coming on top of the tremendous defeat in the September States, our Democratic friends in private are forced to admit that this is a Republican year. The people cannot be humbugged again as they were two years ago.

Exposing a Demagogue.

In the same [illegible] the Philadelphia Press. Before the inauguration of Grover Cleveland in 1893, Ohio XX wool sold for 30 [illegible] cents a pound. The same grade now sells for [illegible] cents. The lower grades have declined more in proportion. The wool clip for 1893 was [illegible] pounds and excepting for Democratic success would have been much larger this year. The decline in wool represents an annual loss to the wool growers of $41,175,316, taking only the standard grade as the basis of estimate. But including the others the loss reaches over $45,000,000. The decline in the price of sheep represents a loss of $75,000,000. The loss on ranch property and on the rough and poorer portions of the 700,000 farms now used for grazing sheep has been estimated by Senator Dolph at $250,000,000. But leaving that out, and including the depreciation in the value of labor, and about $125,000,000 represent the loss year to the wool growers as the result of the Democratic free wool crusade.

Can any living man point to any gain? The one branch of the woolen industry that was said to suffer most because of the duty on wool was the production of carpets. But we find in the 'Wool and Cotton Reporter' and other trade journals of recent date the statement that "the mills are running about one-half capacity on small orders." That is the way free wool helps the carpet industry, although the tariff on the manufactured goods will not be reduced under the new law until next year. The big woolen mills at Centerville, N. J., have closed because they cannot now pay protection wages, even with free wool.

There has been a gain, however, to Canadians and other foreigners. The Wool and Cotton Reporter says that "manufacturers have shown little disposition to buy domestic stock," as they expect to get foreign wools much lower. The same journal reports that "interest on the part of buyers has been mainly in foreign wools," and that in Boston "the sales of Australian wool have surpassed any previous record." Why? Because foreigner undersell the American wool growers even at present low prices.

That trade newspaper also reports that "some of our large Philadelphia wool houses have sent their buyers into Canada recently and there has been some large blocks of wool taken up, and conservative estimates are made that 1,000,000 pounds of Canadian wool have come to Philadelphia within the past two weeks." It appears therefore that the Australians and Canadians are receiving some benefit from the free wool tariff. But there is nothing except wailing and gnashing of teeth in the United States. A few foreign wool houses may increase their commissions but that is all the gain so far visible here to compare with a direct yearly loss of $125,000,000 and an indirect loss that makes up another large sum.

The Change of Opinion.

Commenting upon the political sentiment as manifested in the elections that have occurred this year, the New York Tribune says: Instead of the thirty-eight towns which they carried last year, the Democrats of Connecticut have carried twenty-five this year, a loss of a little more than a third. This is slightly less than the proportion of Democratic votes lost in Maine, but a little more than in Vermont. It is especially noteworthy because it shows a loss so closely corresponding in each of the Eastern States. And these losses cannot be attributed to bad local government by the Democrats, as in Brooklyn or New York, nor to the robbery of the State by a ring of race-track swindlers, as in New Jersey. It is therefore cumulative evidence that the overthrow of the Democrats in other Northern States is really due, not to local causes [illegible], but to conditions which affect all the Eastern States alike.

Whoever pleases is at liberty to believe that this wholly unprecedented loss of strength by one of the great National parties has nothing to do with the change of tariff threatened and in part effected by that party. Men can always befool themselves if they try. It is no [illegible] matter for a Democratic Free Trader to persuade himself that the working men of Connecticut and of Maine who are out of employment or have lost a fifth to a quarter of their former wages, do not resent that change, and are angry only because a Democratic Congress did not reduce the tariff still more. As the situation now stands I can emphatically state that the regular state Democratic ticket will receive the full support of the Cleveland factions As to whether Secretary Lamont came over with orders from the administration to restore harmony, both in city and State, I am not at liberty to say I can tell you I am positively assured that the administration men in Washington desire most earnestly the success of the regular Democratic ticket headed by Senator Hill

I can state that Judge William J Gaynor will without doubt appear on the State ticket as the nominee for the court of appeals The administration at large and all its supporters [illegible] that the honor of the Democrats is now at stake and for that purpose they will be willing to make every concession in the interest of securing Democratic elections this fall It is [illegible] question with the administration [illegible] of personality but of Democracy

S. thence south of Horse Mountain and north to the terminus in Staceyville at the B. & A. station. It will be a joint hearing by the commissioners of Penobscot and Aroostook counties.

The commissioners adjourned yesterday afternoon to meet at Dexter on Monday October 8th to hold an adjourned hearing on the Dexter streets matter.

Next Monday night Stuart Robson, the famous comedian, will appear at the Opera House in "She Stoops to Conquer" and Tuesday night in "The Henrietta" As the actor and the very entertaining qualities of the two comedies are well known to Bangor people there will doubtless be a large attendance each night A strong company and careful attention to stage setting and other details are promised

The King's Daughters' Home

The question "What is our King's Daughters Home doing?" has been asked so often that it was thought a few facts taken from the diary of the matron, Miss Leavitt, would satisfy those who have so generously supported the Home that their money—and often their strength—have not been given in vain

When the Home was established three years ago its avowed object was to furnish a home for those who were homeless and also to aid young girls in becoming self supporting at the same time surrounding them with the refining and elevating influences of a home in its best sense It may be a surprise to some, even to those who have closely watched its progress, to learn that our Home has sheltered one hundred and seventeen girls who were absolutely homeless and who but for this open door would have spent the night in the street Hardly a week passes but some young girl without money or friends in the city, comes to claim its protection.

A short time ago two sisters both under eighteen came from one of the up river towns to take the boat for Boston where their mother was to meet them Their train being late, when they reached the wharf the boat had gone and they were left with just money enough to buy their ticket to Boston, but with no roof to shelter them during the intervening day One of the policemen (who are among the warmest friends of the Home) sent them there where they were well taken care of and safely started on their journey by Miss Leavitt Where could they have gone had not the Home been in existence? Only last week a girl of thirteen came to Bangor expecting to meet her father He was not at the station and she waited there all day not knowing where to go As night fell a policeman inquired the cause of her tears and on being informed carried her to the Home where she remained from Friday until Tuesday awaiting the arrival of her father who had not received the letter informing him of her coming Cannot every father understand the gratitude which filled the heart of that man for the organization which protected his child in such an hour of need?

By reference to Miss Leavitt's diary we find that one hundred and thirty seven girls have been aided to become self supporting This number does not include girls who came from the Provinces and elsewhere to seek situations as servants These are often inmates of the Home for very brief periods, as situations are usually found for them at once The criticism is often made that the King's Daughters Home is only a cheap boarding house but in reality this is one of the most important features of the work In many cases young girls come from the country to learn some trade or to work in a store on wages which make it impossible to obtain board in a respectable location Such girls are given the protection of the Home paying what the matron deems a fair percentage of their earnings and very many have gone back to their homes fitted to take care of themselves and in some cases of those dependent on them The importance of this branch of the work has not been generally understood or appreciated, either from a moral or practical standpoint It shields the girl from temptation at a critical time in her life and sends her out into the world better fitted to be a self respecting and self supporting woman In this connection it might be well to state that girls who board at the Home for any length of time, pay a trifle more than the actual cost of the food and so are in no sense objects of charity but slight sources of revenue they being perfectly willing at any time to vacate their rooms should a more needy girl present herself So far no person has ever been refused shelter

If space permitted many touching stories might be told Miss Leavitt would be very glad if the friends of the Home would visit it more often and see for themselves the importance of the work done there There is to be a special meeting of the Union next week at which matters of vital interest to the Home will be discussed and it is earnestly hoped that all King's Daughters in Bangor will take this opportunity of informing themselves as to the real value of the work done at the King's Daughters Home

Foot Ball Game To-day

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the High School eleven will line up against the Bowdoin sophomores and an exciting game may be expected As the greatest length of the game is but 70 minutes and may be less according to the agreement of the two captains, the business men who desire to see the game will not be absent long from their business, and the financial aid will be appreciated as it is quite expensive getting the Bowdoin eleven here Those who see one foot ball game always want to see another The Bowdoin team will be entertained at supper by the High School boys at the Y M C A building and their friends will call on them after tea They leave on the 8 P M train

The Bowdoin freshmen have written Manager Hennessey for a date here the last of the month

A letter received from the manager of the Foxcroft academy team regarding the playing on that team of players who do not attend the academy states that they are obliged to take outside men in order to form a reasonably strong team and as they are not engaged in the contest for the inter-scholastic pennant they thought the Bangors would rather meet a strong than a weak team

The Foxcrofts were to have played here next Saturday, but if Thornton Academy can come then the latter will be given the preference in order that as many inter scholastic games as possible may be played The game with Foxcroft may be arranged when there is no chance of securing a game with one of the schools or academies which belong to the M I S A A

The Maine State College sophomore eleven will play the Bowdoin sophomores at Orono sometime after the cadets' encampment A game between the Maine State College freshmen and Bangor High school teams will also probably occur in this city before long.

Setting a Good Example

The following complimentary letter was received yesterday by the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and is certainly most encouraging to young men to lead a life free from the tobacco habit. The good example set by the lady we recently mentioned and followed by the W. C. T. U. is suggestive to others:

Mr. R. A. Jordan,

Dear sir: The W. C. T. U. are naturally in sympathy with work of the Y. M. C. A. and appreciate the great value of the opportunities which the association affords to young men in its various educational classes. Desiring to assist in so good a work for the mental and moral advancement of young men, the Union at its last meeting voted to offer a scholarship ticket in all your classes, including the gymnasium, to some young man who does not use tobacco in any form if you will undertake to select some suitable recipient who would not be able to purchase the membership for himself.

Sincerely yours, for the Union,
MRS. J. J BUCKNAM,
Secretary.

MRS ROBSON'S RECITAL

Gives Much Pleasure to a Cultured Audience at Y M C A Hall Friday Evening

Those who enjoy the exposition of the dramatic art in recital, and the number is not small by any means, and who were able to visit Y M C A Hall last evening received a rare treat upon the occasion of the recital by Mrs Sarah Fawney Robson given in aid of the proposed State home for girls—a most worthy object, by the way

A cultured audience, several hundred in number, was present and passed an enjoyable evening in listening to the talented lady who held their undivided and most appreciative attention for nearly two hours The earnest consideration given the numbers of the programme and the warm applause which followed them indicated that the audience took great satisfaction in what was placed before their senses

Mrs Robson began with several short recitals in a lighter vein than what followed and they, in contrast with the closing play, demonstrated her versatility in elocution and expression They were charmingly given Mrs Robson has a fine presence, a mobile and expressive countenance, a pleasing and impressive method of elocution, artistically natural, and emotion and passion are artistically portrayed by her

Victor Hugo's "Angelo" a play in four acts, was given a very strong presentation and met with the entire approbation of her hearers

The stage was tastefully arranged with furnishings kindly loaned by Oakes & Chandler

A satisfactory sum will be cleared from the recital for the object previously stated and it is hoped that it will be very materially increased in the near future

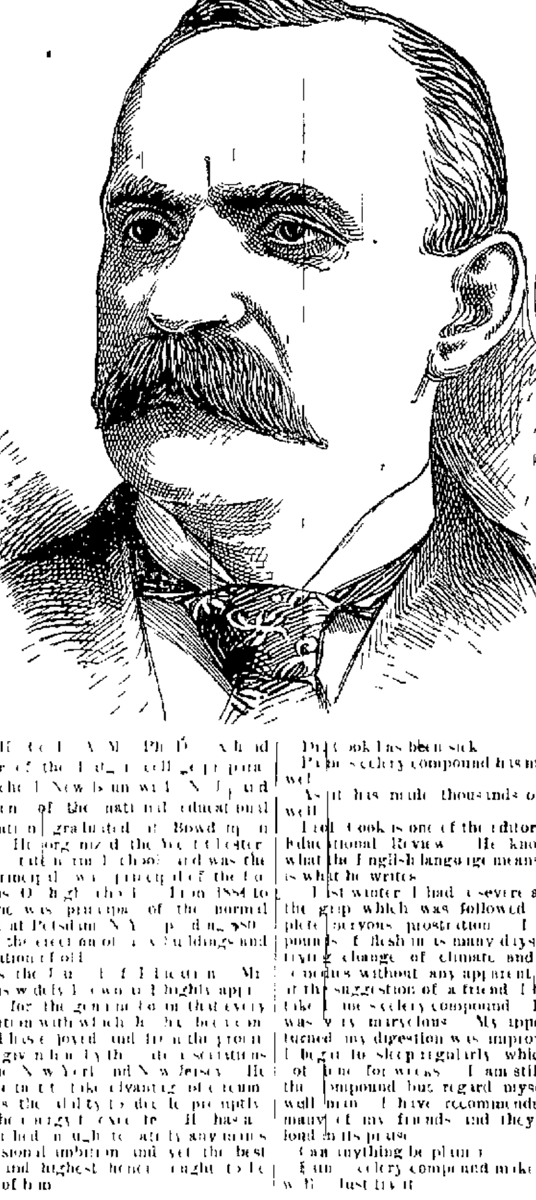
AND PRESIDENT COOK!

President of the National Teachers' Association---Paine's Celery Compound.



[illegible] Cook, A. M., Ph. D., who had [illegible] master of the [illegible] [illegible] school, New Brunswick, N. J., and president of the national educational association, graduated at Bowdoin in 18[illegible]. He organized the [illegible] and was the first principal [illegible] of the Columbus (O.) high school. From 1884 to 1889 he was principal of the normal school at Potsdam, N. Y., spending $50,000 in the erection of new buildings and renovation of old.

Says the [illegible] of Education: Mr. Cook is widely known and highly appreciated for the [illegible] that every institution with which he has been connected has enjoyed, and from the prominence given him by the [illegible] of Ohio, New York and New Jersey. He has the [illegible] to take advantage of circumstances, the ability to decide promptly and the energy to execute. He has accomplished enough to satisfy any man's professional ambition, and yet the best work and highest honor ought to be ahead of him.

Dr. Cook has been sick.

Paine's celery compound has made him well.

As it has made thousands of others well.

Prof. Cook is one of the editors of the Educational Review. He knows just what the English language means. Here is what he writes:

"Last winter I had a severe attack of the grip, which was followed by complete nervous prostration. I lost 40 pounds of flesh in as many days. After trying change of climate and various remedies without any apparent benefit, at the suggestion of a friend I began to take Paine's celery compound. Its effect was very marvelous. My appetite returned, my digestion was improved, and I began to sleep regularly, which I had not done for weeks. I am still taking the compound, but regard myself as a well man. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and they are all loud in its praise."

Can anything be plainer?

Paine's celery compound makes people well. Just try it.

Mr. R. O. Walsh, who has been in Boston for a short time, has returned home.

Mr. N. A. Tefft has returned from Boston, where he has been for a few weeks.

Mr. Andrew Mason has returned to his home in this city after an extended stay in Massachusetts.

Miss Mary George returned to her home in Orrington yesterday after a few days' visit with Mrs. A. Y. Rogers.

Miss Myra Littlefield, of Burlington, is visiting her sister, Miss Eva Littlefield at Mr. I. D. Crook's home on Eastern avenue.

Mrs. J. T. Crosby, who has been quite ill, is still in poor health although able to be about the house. Her many friends will hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. Walter Snow, who is to return to his home in this city to spend the winter after a long stay in Central Valley, N. Y., is now in Unity visiting friends.

The dredger, which has been working some distance down the river below the ferry, has returned to that locality and is digging away at the bottom there.

Alderman D. A. Sargent, Dr. Wheeler and Mr. S. S. Herrick, of South Brewer, have returned from a hunting trip up river, bringing home a fine deer as a result of their quest.

Some more rain fell during Thursday night rendering the streets still more muddy, but yesterday forenoon the weather cleared and the remainder of the day was bright and pleasant.

A motion was before the City Council Thursday evening for the fixing of the cost of keeping lots in repair at Oak Hill Cemetery at two dollars per year, and the matter was discussed at length. No action was taken, however.

The couple to whose projected marriage the young woman's father objected, as reported by this paper a few days ago, were married by City Clerk Brett, of Bangor, Thursday, the father finally concluding to give his full and free consent.

A dance was to be held last evening at South Orrington, under the management of Messrs. George Vayo and George Drusha, of South Brewer, and a successful occasion was expected. A number of young people from here went down to attend.

Mr. William Kerr, of South Brewer, recently newly shingled his house at that end of the city, and the old shingles which were taken off were quite an example of the lasting qualities of the highest grade pine article, they having been on the roof for thirty four years.

The children who have begun the course of kindgarten musical instruction which Miss Grace M. Bramhall, the well known music teacher, has recently added to her departments, find the study very interesting and are making good and thorough progress. The method is an excellent one and Miss Bramhall is most efficient in the instruction, as well as in her other branches.

Miss E. M. Jones will have her opening of fall and winter millinery at her store at No. 5 Centre street on next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 9th, 10th and 11th. Miss Jones has lately returned from Boston, where she attended the openings, and brought home a large stock of the latest and leading styles which will be sure to delight the ladies. Her stock is a fine one and none of the ladies should miss the opening.

In another column this morning Mr. Charles W. Curtis, proprietor of the Brewer Boot and Shoe store on Main street near the ferry, announces that he has just received a full line of men's and boys gloves which will go at popular prices. Mr. Curtis keeps a large stock of all kinds of footwear for all ages for gents and ladies, and men's and boy's hats of every description, all first class goods at the most reasonable prices. When in need of anything in his line give him a call and you will be more than satisfied.

A GLIMPSE OF NOVA SCOTIA.

The Country is Beautiful, People Are Courteous, and Board Is Cheap.

A good deal has been written and said about the politeness with which travelers are treated while journeying through certain European countries. But it is not necessary to go so far from home to meet with people who find time not only to treat strangers with politeness and affability, but who observe the practice in their daily intercourse with one another. A traveler through Nova Scotia and the provinces is impressed at the outset with the idea that the natives fully understand what is meant by hospitality, and what is more to the point, know how to make a happy use of their knowledge. Their politeness, to be sure, is not of the polished French kind, but it is none the less graceful, because it is of the good old fashioned sort. The following is only one illustration of many others that could be told of them. A party of Brooklynites while jogging along a country road was overtaken by a man who was driving his horse at a furious rate. As he turned out of the road in order to pass ahead he pulled up his horse with some difficulty and apologized for passing, explaining that he was anxious to overtake a man who was a quarter of a mile ahead. Then he rushed on. This may seem a little far fetched, but it is the practice in Nova Scotia. It may be remarked that in an extended journey this was the only person who was met that seemed to be in the least bit of a hurry. The people there manifested a decided inclination to take things easy. In a village of 500, at the ringing of the village bell at 12 o'clock, every store in town is closed for one hour, while the proprietors go home for dinner. The same thing occurs again at 6 o'clock, business everywhere being suspended for one hour. They think that an hour for each meal is none too much. It may be only a coincidence that while many patent medicines were advertised conspicuously no remedy for indigestion was brought to one's attention. It is somewhat a matter of surprise to find in each small village a Salvation Army in full force, bass drum, barracks and all. One is apt to wonder where they got their converts, for the churches are numerous and always well attended.

Taking into consideration the good roads for driving, the beautiful scenery, the first class coaches and good railroad service, a journey through Nova Scotia is sure to be satisfactory. There are four water routes—one direct from Brooklyn by the steamers Portia and Servia. The three other lines leave Boston and are the Canada Atlantic and Plant direct to Halifax, with two large iron steamers, the Yarmouth line with two fine boats to Yarmouth, and the International Steamship company, with two well appointed side wheel steamers running to St. John.

The expense of living in Nova Scotia is surprisingly cheap. The writer boarded at a country hotel for eight days at a total cost of $4.50.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Mule Balked

As we all know, horses became very scarce toward the end of the war, and as dismounted cavalrymen were sent to the infantry a remount became a serious question with many troopers. Jim —— of the Rockbridge troop had lost his horse and unable to get another possessed himself of a white mule named Simon. Jim became very proud of his mule and was loud in his praises. "He never gets tired, lives on nothing and has got more sense than the general," asserted Jim. But one day a squad was enjoying a dinner with a sympathetic farmer when a sudden alarm was given. "Run, boys, run! The Yankees are coming!" There was mounting in hot haste, and some escaped by the front gate and some by the rear. Jim dashed at the front gate, but Simon, displaying his mule nature for the first time, balked. Jim wheeled around and drove at the rear gate, but Simon balked again. Poor Jim looked over his shoulder, saw the blue coats rapidly approaching, threw his arms around Simon's neck and called in agonized tones, "Oh, Simon, for heaven's sake, go somewhere!"—Baltimore Sun.

Mr. Pullman's Compromise

The architect of Pullman was W. W. Beman. He was justly proud of his work and justifiably anxious to be identified with it in the memory of posterity. So one day soon after the town was completed he came to the proprietor and said:

"Mr. Pullman, if you haven't decided on any name for the new town, what do you think of calling it Beman, from the man who designed it?"

"Um-m," said the magnate. "Fact is, I had thought of calling the place Pullman, from the man who built it and paid for it."

However," Mr. Pullman added as he observed a look of disappointment on the architect's face, "however, I'm not particular. Now, what do you say to a compromise? Suppose we take the first syllable of my name, Pull, and the second syllable of your name, man. There we have it, Pull—man—Pullman. You see that combines your idea with mine."

Mr. Pullman's suggestion prevailed, and the name, it seems, is a compromise.—Chicago Tribune.

Bothersome Hotel Guests

"It is a relief when some guests go to bed," remarked a hotel clerk. "A man will come into the house about 7 o'clock in the evening and register. He will go to his room after asking if there are any letters. An hour later he will appear in the corridor with an air of one who has millions to burn, advance to the desk and say, 'Leave a call for room 18 at 7 a. m.' In a few minutes the same individual will again inquire for mail. An hour before he intends to retire he will order ice water sent to his room, and later he will visit the clerk to ask the breakfast hour. Then he will start for his room and finding that he has forgotten his key will return for it. Yes, we have them every day, and all of the questions must be answered politely, or we would be obliged to join the hoboes. Do you wonder that we breathe easier when these cranks have retired for the night?"—Buffalo Courier.

The Mesquite Tree.

There is no kind of wood or coal that will make a fire that will last as long or leave such a small proportion of ashes as mesquite tree wood. It has all the advantage of coal, but does not clinker nor scatter any black dust. Instead of gas it yields, while burning, a slight spicy and pleasant aroma, with the minimum quantity of smoke and soot. Besides the bark is valuable for tanning, and the production of tannic acid will some day be a profitable industry. Wherever the growing tree is bruised it gives out a gum which contains all the properties of gum arabic, and it can be distinguished from the genuine African production only by its darker color. The fruit is leguminous, consisting of seeds the size of small coffee beans inclosed (eight or ten of them) in a pod that has a sweetish taste. It is eagerly eaten by horses, cattle and sheep and has fattening qualities equal to corn.—Laredo (Tex.) News.

Known by Numbers.

At the Pioneer Club For Women in London, to which all the "advanced" women belong, there is a simple device for leveling all the members, irrespective of their rank and title. Members are known by numbers instead of names. On joining each woman is given a number based on the order of her membership, and to some extent she is known by the number, although addressing a person by her name is not prohibited. But you will hear such remarks as:

"Oh, Miss 6228, have you met Mrs. 8946? She is an intimate friend of No. 2903, whom you saw at Mrs. 6822's house."

Now No. 2903 may be a countess or a duchess, but being an "advanced" woman she is not vain of her worldly position and would much rather be known by the numerals than by her title.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Kissing at the Gate.

Kissing a girl at the gate would seem to involve the most complex artifices; but, as we are told, it all depends. In the first place, it makes much difference whether the kisser and the kissee are together on one side of the gate or are separated by that awkward, teasing contrivance. In the second place, the temper of the kissee makes all the difference in the world. If she be unkind, no amount of importunity shall move her, and surely no courtly and brave suitor will seek to obtain by force that which his sweetheart denies, meaning it.—Chicago Record.

Clubable Women.

The four best known women's clubs of the country are the New York Sorosis, the New England Woman's club of Boston, the Chicago Woman's club and the New Century club of Philadelphia. Besides these there are hundreds of others of equal activity if less celebrity, and it is clear that women are becoming more "clubable" from year to year.

An Unexpected Encore.

Suspicious Character (to amateur magician, who is returning home after giving a little entertainment for poor people)—We was in the show tonight, boss, an we seen yer take a bank note and gold out of a feller's hat, an a han'ful of silver out of a side pocket, an we wants yer to do it for us right now, an be mighty quick about it!—London Tit Bits.

UTOPIA IN THE BAY STATE

Advantages Enjoyed by Members of a Brookline Co-operative Community.

A number of people living in Brookline, Mass., are enjoying many of those ideal advantages that every householder dreams of, and according to the New York Post without any of the vicious results that certain students of social questions warn us are inherent in co-operative communities. These people live in houses perfectly warmed and lighted by outside powers. The same or similar powers take care of their sidewalks winter and summer, wash and sweep the front steps and look after the lawns and flower beds. All this is done at a moderate cost.

Each house has in the rear a grass plot of its own, and in the center of the square formed by the four rows of houses there is a park, with trees and walks and tennis courts. In this park is placed a pretty casino, where the members of the community can dance, bowl or play billiards, except on those occasions when some member engages it for a special entertainment. For such events as a dinner, a dance or a reception the entire building with its conservatories may be rented for $9. This includes the attendance of a man from 8 to 12 o'clock in the evening. Decorations of plants and flowers are to be had at a moderate additional cost. The caterer's charge for table service, crockery, etc., for 100 persons is $7.50.

Small and early parties beginning at 8 o'clock and with the last guest gone at 10.30 have the use of the hall for $2.50. Of this plan of co-operation a man who has been a householder 25 years says:

This community of interest in no way trenches upon privacy, and it is as easy to preserve seclusion and independence as in a city block where neighbors are practically strangers. I find myself for the first time, although in the largest house I have been privileged to occupy, entirely without the cares of a household.
